One+ OnSite

The official onsite daily newspaper

Distributed each morning to attendee's guest rooms and onsite at the convention center, this four-color, tabloid-sized publication features reporting of the community events taking place each day at WEC. It provides a preview of the professional development, networking and trade show opportunities of the day ahead, a review of the previous day's experiences and innovations, local navigation guides and industry news vital to attendees.

Extend Your Brand's Reach

Your advertisement gets you:

- Repeat visibility with three editions per conference
- Direct access each morning to key decision makers in the meetings industry
- Opportunity to integrate your presence in the trade show with traffic-driving messaging or a chance to highlight your company's conference sponsorship

The Conference Guide

MPI's official onsite conference guide for WEC 2009 is the primary tool for attendees to navigate the education, networking, trade show and business offerings of the conferences, and is referred to by attendee's multiple times daily throughout the events. Post-event surveys indicate attendees take the conference guide home with them to use as a reference tool and to share with colleagues, delivering extended shelf life and high pass-along value.

Let Your Brand Run Wild

Your advertisement delivers:

- Enhanced presence as attendees use the guide to plan their trade show experience and source exhibitors
- Increased traffic to your booth as participants use the guide to navigate their conference
- Broader, longer reach as meeting professionals use the guide as a reference tool long after the conference is over
